Solution for Non-Commercial Grill

Cross Hose & Fittings Stores help customers of all sizes, from giant manufacturing facilities to individual homeowners. No matter the size of the customer, it is our top priority to provide high-quality solutions to even the most challenging problems. Recently, we were contacted by a homeowner, Rick, who had a hose need and wasn't able to find an off the shelf solution.

Rick recently built a new home with a propane line running to the house. Because he enjoys grilling, he asked the builder to leave him a hook up for his grill so he could grill as much as he likes without having to bother with filling tanks. As you might imagine, getting his grill connected was a top priority. Unfortunately, the propane hookup was about twenty feet from where he wanted his grill. After shopping tirelessly for a connector hose with no luck, he reached out to his propane supplier for suggestions.
